Cynthia Haisley, 43, a mother of two and native of Missouri, was found beaten to death under a bridge in northwest Rochester on Oct. 3, 1998. Haisley, who was homeless, had been living under the bridge, possibly with several other people. She had also frequented the Dorothy Day Center and Salvation Army in Rochester. Law enforcement officials believe there are witnesses that have information that could assist in solving this case.

Please bring closure to the family and friends of Cynthia Haisley, and bring her killer(s) to justice.
